Weekend Blood Collection & Weight Check

● WEIGH BABY

- After the blood draw, Lab staff will direct you to a baby scale for you to use to weigh your baby.
 - It's important that your baby be weighed naked so we have an accurate weight for decision making purposes. This includes taking off baby's diaper.

● RECORD WEIGHT

- Please record your baby's weight below
- Tear the form where indicated. The bottom portion of the form will be retained by the lab staff. Please take the top portion of the form (with your baby's weight) home with you.
- Your doctor will be calling you with your lab results when ready. At that time, he or she will ask you for your baby's naked weight so keep this sheet in a safe place until you have talked to your physician.
